

Airdrie-Bathgate Railway and Linked Improvements Act 2007

2007 asp 19

PART 4

SUPPLEMENTARY

59 Rights of Scottish Ministers

- (1) Nothing in this Act affects prejudicially any estate, right, power, privilege, authority or exemption of the Scottish Ministers.
- (2) Without prejudice to the generality of subsection (1), nothing in this Act authorises the acquisition of land (including any rights or interests in land) held or used by a minister of the Crown, a government department or the Scottish Ministers without the consent in writing of that minister or government department or of the Scottish Ministers.
- (3) A consent under subsection (2) may be given unconditionally or subject to terms and conditions.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Airdrie-Bathgate Railway and Linked Improvements Act 2007, Section 59.