

SCHEDULE 3
MODIFICATION OF PRE-COMMENCEMENT ENACTMENTS

Instruments subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of the Parliament

- 2 (1) Sub-paragraph (2) applies where, in relation to devolved subordinate legislation, a pre-commencement enactment provides, or has the effect of providing, that the legislation, or the Scottish statutory instrument containing the legislation, is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of the Scottish Parliament.
- (2) The enactment is to be read as if it instead provided for the legislation to be subject to the negative procedure.
