

SCHEDULE 3
MODIFICATION OF PRE-COMMENCEMENT ENACTMENTS

Instruments required to be laid for a specified period before coming into force and subject to annulment by the Parliament

- 4 (1) Sub-paragraph (2) applies where, in relation to devolved subordinate legislation, a pre-commencement enactment provides, or has the effect of providing, that the legislation, or the Scottish statutory instrument containing the legislation—
- (a) is to be laid before the Scottish Parliament for a specified period before it comes into force, and
 - (b) is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of the Parliament.
- (2) The enactment is to be read as if it instead provided for the legislation to be subject to the negative procedure.
