In particular, regulation 2(3) provides that for the purpose of entitlement to income support, a lone parent may be treated as not engaged in remunerative work for the first 14 days after commencing such work following a period of entitlement to income support or income-based jobseeker's allowance of at least 26 weeks.

These Regulations also provide that during the 14 day period—

- any earnings from the employment which caused the lone parent to be treated as not engaged in remunerative work shall be disregarded (regulation 2(9));
- any working families tax credit or disabled person's tax credit shall be disregarded as income (regulation 2(10));
- any back to work bonus or child maintenance bonus shall be disregarded as capital when paid during that period (regulation 2(11)).

Regulation 2(5) and (6) makes amendments which are consequential on that made in regulation 2(9). Regulation 2(4) and (7) makes amendments which are consequential on that made in regulation 2(3).

Regulation 4(2) to (4) and (5)(b) to (f) provides for the treatment of extended payments of housing benefit in the case of lone parents who are not treated as engaged in remunerative work pursuant to these Regulations. Those provisions also make consequential and minor technical amendments.

Regulation 4(5)(a) provides that extended payments of housing benefit shall be made to those persons who were in receipt of income support whilst incapable of work or were in receipt of income support or jobseeker's allowance which included the disability premium.

Regulation 5 amends the Social Security (Claims and Payments) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1987 so as to provide that certain lone parents who are not treated as engaged in remunerative work pursuant to these Regulations, shall not be required to make a claim for income support in order to be entitled to it.
