
STATUTORY RULES OF NORTHERN IRELAND

2003 No. 525

Fisheries Byelaws (Northern Ireland) 2003

PART XIX

RESTRICTIONS ON THE KILLING OF SALMON

86. Subject to Byelaw 87, where any person whilst angling during the period from 1st March to 31st May in any year, both dates inclusive, takes a salmon, then he shall, without avoidable injury, cause such salmon to be returned immediately to the water from which it was taken.

87. In that part of Lough Melvin which is situate in County Fermanagh where any person whilst angling during the period from 1st February to 31st May in any year, both dates inclusive, takes a salmon in excess of one on any day, then he shall, without avoidable injury, cause such salmon to be returned immediately to the water from which it was taken.

88. Subject to Byelaws 89, 90 and 91, where any person whilst angling during the period from 1st June to 31st October in any year, both dates inclusive, takes a salmon in excess of two on any day, then he shall, without avoidable injury, cause such salmon to be returned immediately to the water from which it was taken.

89. In that part of Lough Melvin which is situate in County Fermanagh where any person whilst angling during the period from 1st June to 30th September in any year, both dates inclusive, takes a salmon in excess of three on any day, then he shall, without avoidable injury, cause such salmon to be returned immediately to the water from which it was taken.

90. In Upper and Lower Lough Erne and in the River Erne where any person whilst angling during the period from 1st June to 30th September in any year, both dates inclusive, takes a salmon in excess of two on any day, then he shall, without avoidable injury, cause such salmon to be returned immediately to the water from which it was taken.

91. In the River Bush where any person whilst angling during the period from 1st June to 20th October in any year, both dates inclusive, takes a salmon in excess of two on any day, then he shall, without avoidable injury, cause such salmon to be returned immediately to the water from which it was taken.