(2) Where an applicant for compensation under the Act dies before the application is determined and there are two or more persons who would have been entitled under section 6(1) of the Act to make the application if the applicant had died already—

- (a) one of them may proceed with the application, or
- (b) some or all of them may jointly proceed with the application.

(3) A panel appointed by the President of the Board may, on behalf of the Board, agree to allow a person to proceed with the application if, in circumstances where the applicant had died already, the panel would have agreed under section 6(2) of the Act to receive the application from the person; and a panel appointed for the purposes of this paragraph is to be treated as if it had been appointed under section 6(2) of the Act (and is accordingly entitled by virtue of section 8(4) of the Act to determine the application).

(4) In a case where a person is allowed under paragraph (3) to proceed with the application, references in paragraphs (1) and (2) to a person who would have been entitled to make the application are to be read as including a reference to that person.

(2) If, at the end of the period of three months beginning with the day on which the Board begins enquiries under paragraph (1), no person has expressed an intention to proceed with the application in accordance with rule 5, the application is dismissed.

(3) But paragraph (2) does not prevent a fresh application for compensation being made on behalf of the deceased under the Act after the expiry of the three-month period referred to in that paragraph.

- (c) to indicate whether or not the body, society or organisation intends to provide written evidence in response to the notice.

(5) The body, society or organisation must, within seven days of the notice issue date, respond in writing to the Board’s request under paragraph (4); and any evidence to be provided pursuant to paragraph (4)(c) must be submitted to the Board within 28 days of the notice issue date.

(6) If the applicant or deceased person provided evidence to the Inquiry (within the meaning of section 9(9) of the Act) and the body, society or organisation either does not respond in accordance with paragraph (5) or indicates in its response that it does not intend to provide written evidence, the panel appointed under section 8 of the Act to determine the application may immediately begin its consideration of the application.

(2) The notice must be given at least 21 days before the date specified in the notice for the purposes of section 10(1)(b) of the Act (or, where more than one date is so specified, the first of those dates), unless the person to whom the notice is given has already indicated to the Board that the person is content for the notice to be given on a day which comes after the beginning of that 21-day period.

(3) A solicitor or counsel acting for the person to whom the notice is given may attend the oral hearing and speak on behalf of the person, present evidence and make submissions.

(2) The secretary to the Board must stamp each notification under section 9(7) of the Act (determination of application) with the date on which the determination is made (“the notification issue date”) and must secure that the notification is issued by such means (electronic or otherwise) as the Board may decide.

(3) The notification must include—

- (a) an explanation of the consequences of failing, within the period of 21 days beginning with the notification issue date, either to give the Board written acceptance of the award or to bring an appeal under section 16 of the Act, and

(3) If the Board discovers that a payment of compensation has been made in error, it must inform the recipient of the payment that it requires the amount specified by the Board to be repaid within the period so specified; and the Board may for that purpose permit the recipient to make the repayment by instalments.

(4) The amount of a payment made in error as mentioned in paragraph (3) is recoverable by the designated Department on behalf of the Board as a debt due to the Board.

EXPLANATORY NOTE*(This note is not part of the Rules)*

These Rules, made under the Historical Institutional Abuse (Northern Ireland) Act 2019 (“the Act”), deal with matters of procedure on applications to the Historical Institutional Abuse Redress Board (“the Board”) for compensation under the Act. The Rules also deal with matters of procedure on appeals under the Act.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

Rule 3 sets out the basic requirements for every application for compensation under the Act, including the methods of delivery of an application to the Board.

Rule 4 sets out the material which an applicant must provide in support of an application for compensation.

Rule 5 provides for the procedure to be followed where an applicant for compensation dies before the application is determined and an eligible family member wishes to continue the application.

Rule 6 provides for an application for compensation to be dismissed if the applicant dies before the application is determined and, within the following three months, nobody expresses a wish to continue the application.

Rule 7 requires the Board, once it has received an application for compensation, to contact any institution referred to in the application and to ask it for certain information relating to the case.

Rule 8 gives the panel determining an application for compensation case management powers. It also enables the judicial member who chairs the panel to exercise those powers on its behalf.

Rule 9 deals with requests made by the panel under section 9(1)(b) of the Act for further material.

Rule 10 deals with notices given by the panel requiring a person to give oral evidence.

Rule 11 sets out the procedure for notifying the determination of an application for compensation.

Rule 12 sets out the procedure for bringing an appeal under the Act and provides, in particular, for some of the preceding rules to apply to the appeal as they applied to the original application.

Rule 13 deals with the administrative process for making payments of compensation.

Rules 14 and 15 enable solicitors and counsel to recover costs, with the amount recoverable generally determined by the scales in the Schedule. Where compensation is awarded, the amounts recoverable vary according to whether a hearing was held or whether the application was determined merely on the papers. Where compensation is not awarded, the solicitor is generally entitled to a sum of £150.

Rule 16 enables solicitors and counsel to recover travel expenses where a hearing was held.

Rule 17 enables solicitors to recover the costs of obtaining medical records and expert reports in support of an application for compensation.

Rule 18 enables persons who are called to give evidence to a hearing on an application for compensation to recover legal costs. It also enables the recovery of other expenses.

Rule 19 requires an applicant for compensation or an appellant who wishes to withdraw the application or appeal to give written notice to the Board.

Rule 20 enables the panel determining an application for compensation, or the judicial member determining an appeal, to extend time periods imposed by the Rules.

Rule 21 provides that procedural irregularities do not invalidate an application for compensation or an appeal but enables the panel or single judicial member concerned to take steps where a person has been prejudiced by the irregularity.

The Schedule sets out the scales for determining costs payable to solicitors and counsel in cases where compensation was awarded (as provided for in Rules 14, 15 and 18).
