- (c) the amount of the direct payments and whether to be paid in a lump sum and if so the date of payment of the lump sum or by instalments and if so the intervals at which the instalments are to be paid.

Decision to make direct payments

11. Before deciding whether to make direct payments in respect of a beneficiary the local authority must be satisfied—

- (a) that the way the person who will receive direct payments proposes to use them to secure the agreed provision is an appropriate way to do so;
- (b) that where a parent, nominee or representative is to receive direct payments on behalf of a beneficiary, that person will act in the best interests of the beneficiary when securing the agreed provision;
- (c) that the making of direct payments in respect of the beneficiary will not have an adverse impact on other services which the local authority provides or arranges for children and young people in its area for whom it maintains a statement of special educational needs under section 324 of the 1996 Act or who are subject to a learning difficulty assessment arranged under section 139A of the 2000 Act; and
- (d) that securing the agreed provision by means of direct payments in the case of that beneficiary is compatible with the authority's efficient use of its resources.

Permission of school or college

12. A local authority may not make direct payments in respect of goods or services which will be used or provided in a school(14) or college unless the head teacher, principal or the person occupying an equivalent position at the school or college agrees.

(2) The local authority may at any time increase or reduce the amount of the direct payments provided that the authority is satisfied that the new amount is sufficient to secure the full cost of the agreed provision.

(3) The local authority may reduce the amount of a direct payment for such period as it determines where—

- (a) direct payments have accumulated and remained unused; and
- (b) the local authority considers that it is reasonable to offset the monies accumulated against the outstanding amount to be paid for that period.

(4) Where the local authority decides to increase or reduce the amount of direct payments it must—

(14) School is defined in section 4 of the 1996 Act.

- (a) give reasonable notice in writing to the person receiving the direct payments; and
- (b) where it decides to reduce the amount of direct payments in the circumstances described in sub-paragraph (2) or (3), it must give reasons for that reduction in the notice.

Monitoring and review of direct payments

15.—(1) The local authority must monitor the use of direct payments by persons to whom direct payments are made.

(2) The local authority must review the making and use of direct payments whenever any changes are made in relation to the qualifying goods and services and, in any event—

- (a) at least once within the first three months of direct payments being made in respect of a beneficiary;
- (b) at the end of the period of one year of direct payments being made; and
- (c) thereafter at appropriate intervals.

(3) Where the local authority is notified or becomes aware of a change in the circumstances of the beneficiary which may affect whether the amount of the direct payments is sufficient to secure the agreed provision, it must consider whether that amount is sufficient.

(4) Where the local authority is satisfied that the amount of the direct payments is not sufficient to secure the full cost of the agreed provision, it must increase the amount of the direct payments to ensure that the amount is sufficient to secure the full cost.

(5) When carrying out a review under sub-paragraph (2) the local authority must consider whether—

- (a) it continues to be appropriate to secure the agreed provision by means of direct payments;
- (b) the direct payments have been used effectively;
- (c) the amount of the direct payments continues to be sufficient to secure the agreed provision;
- (d) it is still satisfied as to the matters set out in paragraph 11; and
- (e) the person receiving the direct payments has complied with the obligations imposed on them under Part 3.

16.—(1) Following a review, the local authority may—

- (e) take any other action that the local authority considers appropriate.

(2) Where, following a review, the local authority decides to increase the amount of the direct payments, the local authority must notify the person receiving the direct payments.

(3) Where, following a review, the local authority decides to reduce the amount of, or stop making, the direct payments, the local authority must give reasonable notice in writing to the person receiving the direct payments, giving reasons.

(4) On receipt of a notice under sub-paragraph (2), the person receiving the direct payments may request the local authority to reconsider its decision.

- (b) the person receiving the direct payments ceases to be a person to whom direct payments may be made in accordance with paragraphs 6 to 8;
- (c) where the person receiving the direct payments is a nominee or a representative, and the nominee or representative no longer meets all of the conditions set out in paragraph 7 or, as the case may be, paragraph 8;
- (d) following a review under paragraph 15, it appears to the local authority that the person receiving the direct payments is not using the direct payments to secure the agreed provision;
- (e) following a review under paragraph 15, it appears to the local authority that the agreed provision can no longer be secured by means of direct payments;
- (f) at any point the local authority becomes aware that the making of direct payments in respect of a beneficiary is—
 - (i) having an adverse impact on other services which the local authority provides or arranges for children and young people in its area for whom it maintains a statement of special educational needs under section 324 of the 1996 Act or who are subject to a learning difficulty assessment arranged under section 139A of the 2000 Act; or
 - (ii) no longer consistent with the authority's efficient use of its resources.

Repayment and recovery of direct payments

18.—(1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2), the local authority may require that all or part of any direct payments must be repaid if it is satisfied that it is appropriate having regard in particular to whether—

- (a) there has been any change in the qualifying goods and services following a review of the statement of the beneficiary's special educational needs maintained under section 324 of the 1996 Act, of the educational and training needs identified in the beneficiary's learning difficulty assessment conducted under section 139A of the 2000 Act or of the arrangements under section 508B, 508F or 509AA of the 1996 Act that apply in relation to the beneficiary;

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order makes provision for a pilot scheme in accordance with which local authorities may make direct payments under section 532A(1) of the Education Act 1996 (“the 1996 Act”).

Under section 532A(1) local authorities may make direct payments in respect of —

- (a) the special educational provision specified in a statement of special educational needs under section 324 of the 1996 Act;
- (b) provision identified in an assessment arranged under section 139A of the Learning and Skills Act 2000, as required to meet educational and training needs; and
- (c) transport or anything else that may be the subject of arrangements under section 508B(1), 508F(1) or 509AA(7)(b) of the 1996 Act.

Local authorities may only make direct payments under section 532A(1) in accordance with the pilot scheme which is set out in Schedule 1 to the Order (article 2).

The local authorities that may operate the pilot scheme are those authorities set out in Schedule 2 (article 3) and the pilot scheme has effect for two years from the date on which the Order is made (article 4).

The key provisions of the pilot scheme in Schedule 1 are as follows:

Goods and services (defined in section 532A(2) of the 1996 Act) acquired by means of direct payments made in accordance with the pilot scheme are to be treated as provided or arranged by a local authority in pursuance of one of the statutory duties referred to in section 532B(9) (paragraph 2).

Direct payments may be made in respect of a beneficiary (defined in section 532A(1) of the 1996 Act) to a parent of a beneficiary under the age of 16 or to a beneficiary who has attained the age of 16 (paragraph 6). Direct payments may only be made if the parent or beneficiary satisfies the conditions set out in the paragraph 6(2). Local authorities may also make direct payments to a person nominated by a parent or a beneficiary who has attained the age of 16 (paragraph 7), or to a representative where the parent or beneficiary that has attained the age of 16 does not have capacity to consent to the making of direct payments (paragraph 8).

Before making direct payments local authorities must reach an agreement as to the goods and services which are to be secured by means of direct payments, and obtain the written consent of the person to whom direct payments are to be made. Where a nominee is to receive the direct payment, in addition, the agreement and consent of the parent or beneficiary must also be obtained. The written consent must also set out the goods and services which are to be secured by means of the direct payments and whether the direct payment is payable in a lump sum or by instalments (paragraph 10).

Direct payments may not be made unless the local authority has satisfied itself in relation to the matters listed in paragraph 11, which include that the way the direct payments are to be used to secure the agreed provision is appropriate and that the making of direct payments is compatible with the authority’s efficient use of its resources and will not have an adverse impact on other related services provided or arranged by the local authority. Where a local authority decides not to make direct payments, it must inform the person who wished to receive direct payments of its decision in writing and, if requested, review that decision (paragraph 13).

Direct payments may not be made in respect of goods or services which will be used or provided in a school or college unless the head teacher of the school or principal of the college agrees.

The local authority must be satisfied that the amount of direct payments is sufficient to secure the full cost of the agreed provision (paragraph 14) and can increase that amount. It may also reduce the amount of any direct payments for example where direct payments have accumulated and remain unused. The local authority must notify the person receiving the payments of any change in the amount of any direct payments, and where it is reducing the amount the authority must also give reasons for the reduction.

Paragraphs 15 and 16 set out the process the local authority must follow for monitoring and reviewing direct payments, including the actions that a local authority may take following a review and the process to be followed if an authority decides to stop making or reduce the amount of direct payments. Local authorities are required to review the making and use of direct payments at least once in the first three months, one year after the direct payments began and subsequently at appropriate intervals (paragraph 15(2)).

Paragraph 17 sets out the circumstances in which a local authority must stop making direct payments, including where any consent required under paragraph 10 has been withdrawn; when the authority becomes aware that the person receiving direct payments is not using the direct payments to secure the agreed provision; or when the authority becomes aware that the making of direct payments is having an adverse impact on other relevant services or is no longer compatible with the authority's efficient use of its resources.

A local authority may require all or part of any direct payments to be repaid (paragraph 18), including where the beneficiary's circumstances have changed or where the direct payments have not been used to secure the agreed provision. An authority must give reasonable notice where it requires a sum to be repaid and review its decision when requested. Where a local authority requires a sum to be repaid that sum may be recovered as a debt due to the authority.

A local authority must provide information, advice and support to recipients of direct payments, including written information about organisations that may be able to provide assistance in connection with direct payments. Where organisations charge for such information, advice and support the authority may make direct payments in respect of such charges.

The conditions with which a local authority must require a person who receives direct payments to comply are set out in Part 3. These include using the direct payments only to secure the agreed provision, ensuring the bank account into which the direct payments are paid is used only for purposes connected with the direct payments, and keeping a record of money paid into and out of that account

Part 4 sets out the persons to whom direct payments may not be made and include persons who are subject to drug and alcohol treatment requirements.
