

Oaths And Evidence (Overseas Authorities And Countries) Act 1963

1963 CHAPTER 27

An Act to authorise the administration of oaths and the performance of notarial acts by representatives of, and other persons empowered by the authorities of, countries overseas, and by representatives of Her Majesty in post overseas; and to amend the Foreign Tribunals Evidence Act 1856 and the Evidence (Foreign, Dominion and Colonial Documents) Act 1933. [31st July 1963]

1 Taking of evidence for foreign civil proceedings.

Any person appointed by a court or other judicial authority of any foreign country shall have power in the United Kingdom to administer oaths for the purpose of taking evidence for use in proceedings, not being criminal proceedings, carried on under the law of that country.

2 Administration of oaths etc. by representatives of protecting Power.

- (1) Where in any country or area Her Majesty has for the time being no diplomatic or consular representatives appointed on the advice of Her Government in the United Kingdom, and arrangements made on such advice are in force for the representation of interests of Her Majesty in the country or area through diplomatic or consular representatives of any other country, Her Majesty may by Order in Council provide for empowering such representatives to administer oaths and do notarial acts.
- (2) An Order under this section may prescribe the facts to be stated in the jurat by any person by whom an oath is administered by virtue of the Order; and any document purporting to have subscribed thereto the signature of any person in testimony of any oath being administered before him, and containing in the jurat a statement of the facts required to be stated therein by the Order, shall be received in evidence without proof of the signature being the signature of that person or of the facts so stated.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Oaths And Evidence (Overseas Authorities And Countries) Act 1963. (See end of Document for details)

3 Amendment of 52 & 53 Vict. c. 10, s. 6.

Section 6 of the Commissioners for Oaths Act 1889 (powers of British ambassadors, ministers etc. to administer oaths) shall have effect as if the diplomatic ranks specified therein included the rank of counsellor.

4 F1

Textual Amendments
F1 S. 4 repealed by Evidence (Proceedings in Other Jurisdictions) Act 1975 (c. 34), Sch. 2

5 Amendment of 23 & 24 Geo. 5. c. 4.

- (1) If Her Majesty in Council is satisfied as respects any country that—
 - (a) there exist in that country public registers kept under the authority of the law of that country and recognised by the courts of that country as authentic records, and
 - (b) that the registers are regularly and properly kept,

Her Majesty may by Order in Council make in respect of that country and all or any of those registers such provision as is specified in subsection (2) of section 1 of the ^{M1}Evidence (Foreign, Dominion and Colonial Documents) Act 1933.

- (2) The foregoing subsection shall have effect in substitution for subsection (1) of the said section 1, and accordingly subsections (1) and (5) of the said section 1 are hereby repealed, in subsection (2) of that section for the words “this section” there shall be substituted “section 5 of the Oaths and Evidence (Overseas Authorities and Countries) Act 1963”, and subsection (4) of that section (interpretation of “country”) shall apply for the interpretation of the foregoing subsection as it applies for the interpretation of the said section 1; but any Order in Council made under the said section 1 and in force at the commencement of this Act shall continue in force until revoked, or as varied, by an Order in Council under this section.
