

Wills Act 1963

1963 CHAPTER 44

3 Certain requirements to be treated as formal.

Where (whether in pursuance of this Act or not) a law in force outside the United Kingdom falls to be applied in relation to a will, any requirement of that law whereby special formalities are to be observed by testators answering a particular description, or witnesses to the execution of a will are to possess certain qualifications, shall be treated, notwithstanding any rule of that law to the contrary, as a formal requirement only.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Wills Act 1963, Section 3.