

Criminal Law Act 1977

1977 CHAPTER 45

PART VI

SUPPLEMENTARY

64 Meaning of " indictable offence ", " summary offence " and " offence triable either way " in England and Wales

- (1) In this Act and, unless the context otherwise requires, in any other enactment (including an enactment passed after this Act—
- (a) " indictable offence " means an offence which, if committed by an adult, is triable on indictment, whether it is exclusively so triable or triable either way;
 - (b) " summary offence " means an offence which, if committed by an adult, is triable only summarily;
 - (c) " offence triable either way " means an offence which, if committed by an adult, is triable either on indictment or summarily;
- and the terms "indictable", "summary" and "triable either way", in their application to offences, shall be construed accordingly.
- (2) In the definitions in subsection (1) above references to the way or ways in which an offence is triable are to be construed without regard to the effect, if any, of section 23 above on the mode of trial.

65 Citation, etc.

- (1) This Act may be cited as the Criminal Law Act 1977.
- (2) The provisions of sections 14 to 32 and 48 above, so far as they relate to proceedings before magistrates' courts, shall be construed as one with the Magistrates' Courts Act 1952, except that in those provisions " fine " shall include any pecuniary penalty.
- (3) Except where the context otherwise requires, any reference in this Act to any enactment is a reference to it as amended, and includes a reference to it as extended or applied, by or under any other enactment, including this Act.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally enacted).

- (4) The enactments specified in Schedule 12 to this Act shall have effect subject to the amendments there specified, being minor amendments and amendments consequential on the provisions of this Act.
- (5) Subject to the transitional provisions contained in this Act, the enactments specified in Schedule 13 to this Act (which include certain spent provisions) are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that Schedule.
- (6) There shall be defrayed out of money provided by Parliament any increase attributable to the provisions of this Act in the sums payable out of such money under any other Act.
- (7) This Act shall come into force on such day as the Secretary of State may appoint by order made by statutory instrument, and different days may be so appointed for different purposes.
- (8) Without prejudice to any other transitional provision contained in this Act, the transitional provisions contained in Schedule 14 to this Act shall have effect.
- (9) Without prejudice to Schedule 14 or any other transitional provision contained in this Act, an order under subsection (7) above may make such transitional provision as appears to the Secretary of State to be necessary or expedient in connection with the provisions thereby brought into force.
- (10) In this Act—
 - (a) Part V and, so far as there provided, the provisions mentioned in section 63(2) above extend to Scotland;
