ACADEMIES ACT 2010

EXPLANATORY NOTES

INTRODUCTION

1. These Explanatory Notes relate to the Academies Act which received Royal Assent on 27 July 2010. They have been prepared by the Department for Education in order to assist the reader in understanding the Act. They do not form part of the Act and have not been endorsed by Parliament.
2. The Notes need to be read in conjunction with the Act. They are not, and are not meant to be, a comprehensive description of the Act. So where a section or part of a section does not seem to require any explanation or comment, none is given.

BACKGROUND AND SUMMARY

3. Academies are all-ability state-funded schools. They have sponsors from a wide range of backgrounds, including universities and colleges, educational trusts, charities, the business sector and faith communities. Academies have largely replaced city technology colleges (CTCs) and city colleges for the technology of the arts (CCTAs), set up by the Education Reform Act 1988, and all but three of which have now converted to become Academies. The first Academies opened in 2002 and there are currently 203 Academies in 83 local authorities. Of these, 6 converted from independent schools, 53 have a faith designation and 23 are all-through Academies, which include primary provision. Most Academies have replaced weak or underperforming schools, and others have been new schools in areas which needed extra school places.
4. The Act will enable all maintained schools to apply to the Secretary of State to become Academies. It is the Secretary of State's current intention to approve all schools which have been judged 'outstanding' by Ofsted unless there are good reasons not to.
5. Primary and special schools will be encouraged to apply to become Academies in their own right for the first time. Academies are currently required to have a curriculum with an emphasis on a particular subject or subjects (see section 482(2)(a) of the Education Act 1996 ('the EA 1996')). For secondary schools, this requirement for a specialism will continue, but it will not be extended to primary schools or the primary curriculum of an all-age Academy.
6. The Act will make the process of applying to become an Academy as simple as possible and without a requirement for local authorities to be consulted.

*These notes refer to the Academies Act 2010 (c.32)
which received Royal Assent on 27 July 2010*

7. The Secretary of State expects that a significant number of Academies will open in September 2010 and for the number to continue to grow each year.
8. Academies will be funded at a comparable level to maintained schools.
9. The Act will not give rise to any expansion of selection, but grammar schools and other selective or partially selective schools which become Academies will be able to continue to select on the terms on which they presently do so.
10. The Act will treat Academy proprietors as charities.

OVERALL STRUCTURE OF THE ACT

11. The Act has 20 sections and 2 Schedules. The Act is arranged as follows.

COMMENTARY ON SECTIONS

Academy arrangements

Section 1: Academy arrangements

12. This section replaces similar existing provisions in section 482 of the EA 1996. It enables the Secretary of State to make ‘Academy arrangements’ with another person, to establish and run an Academy. That person will be funded by the Secretary of State further to either a contractual agreement (an ‘Academy agreement’) or, by new subsection (2)(b), through grant funding under section 14 of the Education Act 2002 (‘the EA 2002’) (‘arrangements for Academy financial assistance’).

13. If the Academy is to be a mainstream school (rather than a special school) then it must have the characteristics specified at subsection (6) which include having a balanced and broadly based curriculum, having a specialism (if secondary education is provided) and providing education for mainly local pupils, of all abilities. Special schools which become Academies need not have those characteristics but will continue to be specially organised to make special educational provision for pupils with special educational needs. Subsections (7) and (8) provide that, where an Academy is a mainstream school, Academy arrangements must impose obligations upon the proprietor of the school that are equivalent to those that are imposed on governing bodies of maintained schools in Chapter 1 of Part 4 of the EA 1996 and in regulations made under that Chapter. These obligations relate to the provision of education for pupils with special educational needs. Subsection (9) provides that an Academy may not charge for admission or attendance at the school or for education provided there except as provided for under the Academy arrangements.

which received Royal Assent on 27 July 2010*

Section 2: Payments under Academy agreements

14. Subsections (1) to (4) of this section make provision about the terms of an Academy agreement (as opposed to Academy financial assistance, which will be given in accordance with sections 14 to 16 of the EA 2002). Subsection (1) enables an Academy agreement to provide for capital as well as current expenditure (such as running costs). Subsection (2) provides that payments under an Academy agreement must continue (provided its terms are complied with) for a minimum period of 7 years or indefinitely with 7 years' notice. Subsections (3) and (4) provide that Academy agreements may include terms for repayment of funding to the Secretary of State and for the Secretary of State to provide an indemnity to the person entering into an Academy agreement in the event of termination of the agreement. Subsection (5) amends the School Finance (England) Regulations 2008 (S.I 2008/228) to provide that expenditure in respect of services for making provision for Academy pupils with low incidence special educational needs or disabilities becomes a class of expenditure for the purposes of the non-schools education budget. The effect of this is that each local authority must charge expenditure in respect of those services to its non-schools education budget. The Department considers that for these purposes 'low incidence special educational needs' will include severe multi-sensory impairments; severe visual impairments; severe/ profound hearing impairments; and profound and multiple learning difficulties. Subsection (6) enables the Secretary of State to make alternative arrangements where a local authority fails to secure satisfactory provision for pupils with low incidence special educational needs or disabilities.

Conversion of schools into Academies

Section 3: Application for Academy order

15. This section allows the governing body of a maintained school in England to apply to the Secretary of State to become an Academy.

16. A voluntary or foundation school with an existing foundation must consult that foundation before applying and can only make an application with the consent of the school's trustees and any other persons who are entitled to appoint foundation governors to the school. This means, for example, that a school with a religious character would need the consent of its local diocese or other religious authority before it could apply to become an Academy. 'Foundation' in this section has the meaning that it has in the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 (subsection (5)) and in general means a body of persons (other than a governing body), whether incorporated or not, holding land for the purposes of a school. It also includes foundation bodies, which are incorporated bodies holding land for the purposes of 3 or more schools, and who appoint foundation governors.

Section 4: Academy orders

17. This section permits the Secretary of State to make an Academy order which enables the conversion of a maintained school into an Academy in two circumstances: firstly, on the application of a school's governing body under section 3; or secondly, if the school is eligible for intervention (subsection (1)). 'Eligible for intervention' has the meaning given in section 59(2) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006, and covers schools subject to warning notices, and those requiring significant improvement or special measures. These Academy orders will not be made by statutory instrument but will be administrative orders (subsection (6)).

*These notes refer to the Academies Act 2010 (c.32)
which received Royal Assent on 27 July 2010*

18. Subsection (5) provides that where a school applies to become an Academy but the Secretary of State decides not to make an order allowing it to do so, the governing body, the head teacher and the local authority must be informed of that refusal and the reasons.

Section 5: Consultation on conversion

19. This section provides that before a maintained school can convert into an Academy, its governing body must consult those they think appropriate on the question of whether the school should convert into an Academy.

20. The consultation may take place before or after the application, or before or after the order is made, but must take place before the Academy arrangements are entered into.

Section 6: Effect of Academy order

21. This section provides that when an Academy order has been made, the local authority must cease to maintain the school on the date when the Academy opens. This date is known as the ‘conversion date’ (subsection (2)) and will be the date specified as the Academy’s opening date in the Academy arrangements.

22. On the conversion date, the school will be treated automatically as having met the independent school standards that are applicable under section 157 of the EA 2002 (subsection (5)). These are currently contained in the Education (Independent School Standards) (England) Regulations 2003 (SI 2003/1910). This means that the Academy will not need to be inspected by Ofsted before being registered as an independent school or prior to opening. Once open, the Academy will have to comply with the usual requirements placed upon Academies, and it will be inspected thereafter in the usual way by Ofsted in accordance with section 5 of the Education Act 2005.

23. Schools with a religious character will keep that religious character upon conversion to Academy status and will be treated as designated, on conversion, as independent schools having a religious character (subsection (8)). Similarly, selective schools will be able to keep their selective status upon conversion (see subsection (3)), but selective status will not be available to other converting schools, or any other Academies, which do not have existing selective arrangements (see section 1(6)(c)).

24. Where an Academy order has been made, a converting school or its maintaining local authority will not need to follow the school closure procedures in section 30 of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 or sections 15 to 17 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 (see subsection (9)).

Section 7: Transfer of school surpluses

25. This section requires that, where the Secretary of State approves a maintained school’s application to become an Academy under this Act, the local authority must determine whether the school has a budget surplus, and, if so, the amount of that surplus and transfer that amount to the Academy proprietor.

*These notes refer to the Academies Act 2010 (c.32)
which received Royal Assent on 27 July 2010*

26. Under existing legislation, surpluses of closing schools remain with the local authority. This includes situations where an existing school is closed to become an Academy. This section requires local authorities to transfer a school's surplus to the Academy proprietor where the school has been successful in its application to the Secretary of State under this Act to become an Academy.

27. A surplus consists of any unspent portion of the school's budget share (made available under section 50 of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998) as well as any unspent portion of any other funding made available to the school by the local authority, including government grants, and includes amounts brought forward from previous financial years.

28. The section provides for the Secretary of State to prescribe in regulations matters in connection with the determination and payment of any surplus, including timings, and for a right to apply for a review of a determination.

Section 8: Transfer of other property

29. This section permits the Secretary of State to make a property transfer scheme in relation to the property, rights or liabilities of a maintained school which are held for the purposes of the school by the local authority or the school's governing body. Such a scheme can have effect to transfer to the Academy various property or contractual rights or liabilities which were previously the property, rights or liabilities of the maintained school which the Academy replaces. This would permit the school, for example, to retain its electronic hardware, furniture, and cleaning or catering contracts.

Academies: other provisions

Section 9: Impact: additional schools

30. This section requires the Secretary of State, when deciding whether to enter into Academy arrangements in relation to an additional school, to take into account the impact of the additional school on the existing maintained schools, Academies and further education institutions in the area where the new school is proposed to be situated.

31. An 'additional school' is a school which does not replace a maintained school and is not subject to an Academy order under section 4 (see subsection (3)). And if the Academy provides education for pupils of a wider range of ages than the previous maintained school, it is to be treated as not replacing a maintained school (see subsection (4)).

Section 10: Consultation: additional schools

32. This section provides that before entering into Academy arrangements in respect of an additional school (as defined in the previous section) the person entering into those arrangements must consult those they think appropriate on the question of whether the arrangements should be entered into.

*These notes refer to the Academies Act 2010 (c.32)
which received Royal Assent on 27 July 2010*

Section 11: Annual reports

33. This section requires the Secretary of State to publish, for each academic year, a report detailing all Academy arrangements entered into during the year, and the performance of Academies during the year. The report must be laid before Parliament.

34. ‘Academic year’ means a period of 12 months beginning on 1 August, and the first report under this section must relate to the academic year beginning 1 August 2010.

Section 12: Charitable status of Academy proprietors etc

35. This section applies to the legal entities that enter into Academy arrangements with the Secretary of State. If these entities (‘Academy proprietors’) comply with the requirements of subsection (2) then they will be qualifying Academy proprietors for the purposes of the section and will be treated as charities (under subsection (1)).

36. Subsection (4) provides that they will be exempt charities and will thus not need to register with, or be regulated by, the Charity Commission. The Cabinet Office will appoint a principal regulator for such Academy proprietors.

Section 13: Academies: land

37. Section 13 introduces Schedule 1, which makes provision about land in relation to Academies. References below to paragraphs are to paragraphs of that Schedule.

38. Paragraph 1 re-enacts and extends paragraph 1(1) of Schedule 35A to the EA 1996 to allow the Secretary of State to make a scheme in order to transfer to the Academy land used for the purposes of any maintained school that has closed or is about to close (and not just community schools, as provided in Schedule 35A).

39. Paragraph 2 re-enacts paragraph 1(2) of Schedule 35A to the EA 1996, which provides that the Secretary of State may make a scheme in relation to land held by a local authority and specified in a notice published under section 7 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 (invitation for proposals for establishment of new schools).

40. Paragraph 3 makes provision about what is required to be included in a scheme under paragraph 1 or 2. The power in paragraph 1(3) of Schedule 35A to the EA 1996 is extended so that as well as being able to specify the transfer of the whole of a freehold or leasehold interest, the scheme can specify the grant of a lease.

41. Paragraph 4 provides that where an Academy order is made in respect of a voluntary, foundation or foundation special school, the Secretary of State may make directions in respect of publicly funded land held by the governing body, foundation body or trustees of the school. The powers are similar to those contained in paragraph 5 of Schedule 22 to the School Standards and Framework Act 1998, which applies on the discontinuance of a foundation, voluntary or foundation special school which holds publicly funded land.

*These notes refer to the Academies Act 2010 (c.32)
which received Royal Assent on 27 July 2010*

42. Paragraph 5 provides for land held by the governing body of a maintained school that is closing, other than land held on trust, to transfer automatically to the local authority on dissolution of the governing body (unless the Secretary of State directs transfer to a person concerned with running an Academy). This is similar to the existing provision in paragraph 7 of Schedule 22 to the School Standards and Framework Act 1998.

43. Paragraph 6 re-enacts and extends provisions in paragraph 8 of Schedule 35A to the EA 1996 relating to land of former Academies. The paragraph allows the Secretary of State to make a scheme to transfer land held by a school back to the local authority, should the school cease to be an Academy or cease to occupy the land as an Academy.

44. Paragraph 7 makes further provision about the closure of Academies and in particular provides for a power for the Secretary of State to make a direction in respect of publicly funded land which was originally held by a person other than a local authority.

45. Paragraphs 8 to 12 include various technical and consequential provisions, including a disapplication of certain existing legislation in relation to disposals for the purpose of an Academy. Paragraph 11 provides a power for the Secretary of State to make regulations to address technical and practical matters arising out of such land transfers.

Section 14: Academies: amendments

46. This section introduces Schedule 2 which makes a number of amendments to existing legislation, some of which are minor and technical, some of which are not. Paragraph 2 of Schedule 2 amends the definition of ‘special school’ in section 337 of the EA 1996 to permit the definition of special schools to include Academies. Paragraphs 3 and 9 of Schedule 2 make changes to existing powers of the Secretary of State to amend trust deeds relating to non-maintained special schools, or to trust deeds relating to foundation, voluntary, or foundation special schools, or property held for the purposes of such a school, to allow them to be modified to permit the conduct of an Academy if the current trust deed is not sufficient. In all cases, consultation with the governing body, trustees and (if relevant) diocesan authority is required. Paragraph 10 of Schedule 2 amends Part 4 of Schedule 1 to the Freedom of Information Act 2000 to add Academy proprietors to the list of public bodies covered by that Act.

General

Section 15: Transitional provisions

47. Section 15 provides for transitional arrangements in relation to existing Academies, CTCs and CCTAs. It also provides for existing agreements with Academies made under section 482 of the EA 1996 (‘section 482 agreements’) to be treated as agreements made under section 1 of the Act (subsection (6)).

48. Subsections (1) to (5) of the section ensure that existing legislative or other references to section 482 agreements, other than those contained in this Act, are treated as including references to ‘Academy arrangements’ within the meaning of section 1, references to Academy arrangements are treated as including references to section 482 agreements, and

which received Royal Assent on 27 July 2010*

references to Academies are treated as including references to CTCs and CCTAs. Subsection (8) permits proprietors of CTCs and CCTAs to agree with the Secretary of State that the college will become known as an Academy, but does not affect the operation of an existing section 482 agreement with such a college if an agreement with the Secretary of State under subsection (8) is not made (subsection (9)).

Section 16: Pre-commencement applications etc

49. Section 16 allows steps taken by schools before section 3 comes into force with a view to converting into an Academy to have effect as if taken under the Act. Thus an application made by the governing body of a maintained school to the Secretary of State to become an Academy prior to the date on which section 3 comes into force will be treated as though made under the Act. Likewise, an application by the governing body to its foundation for consent to make an application will also be treated as having been made after section 3 has come into force (subsection (4)) and any consent given by the foundation prior to commencement of section 3 will be treated as given under the Act (subsection (6)).

Section 17: Interpretation of Act

50. Section 17 contains definitions of terms used in the Act and in particular defines 'maintained school'. The main freestanding provisions of the Act are treated as being part of the EA 1996 (subsection (3)), and therefore the definitions in that Act will also apply for the purposes of this Act. The Parliamentary procedure specified in that Act for regulations will also apply to regulations made under this Act.

TERRITORIAL EXTENT AND APPLICATION

51. The Act extends to England and Wales only, save to the extent that it amends or repeals a provision in an Act that has any different extent. The Act applies in England only.

52. The Act does not extend to Scotland or Northern Ireland.

COMMENCEMENT

53. Commencement of the provisions of the Act is by order of the Secretary of State with the following exceptions.

54. Sections 15 to 20 come into force on the day on which the Act receives Royal Assent.

*These notes refer to the Academies Act 2010 (c.32)
which received Royal Assent on 27 July 2010*
