

Care Act 2014

2014 CHAPTER 23

PART 3

HEALTH

CHAPTER 1

[^{F1}THE EDUCATION AND TRAINING FUNCTIONS OF NHS ENGLAND]

National functions

101 Sections 98 and 100: matters to which [^{F1}NHS England] must have regard

(1) In performing the duty under section 98(1) (ensuring sufficient skilled workers for the health service) or the duty under section 100(4) (setting objectives, priorities and outcomes for education and training), [^{F2}NHS England] must have regard to the following matters in particular—

- (a) the likely future demand for health services and for persons with the skills and training to work as health care workers for the purposes of the health service,
- (b) the sustainability of the supply of persons with the skills and training to work as such,
- (c) the priorities that providers of health services have for the education and training of persons wishing to work as such,
- ^{F3}(d)
- (e) the objectives of the Secretary of State in exercising public health functions (as defined by section 1H of that Act),
- ^{F4}(f)
- (g) documents published by the Secretary of State under [^{F5}section 100(2) or (3)],
- (h) the desirability of promoting the integration of health provision with health-related provision and care and support provision,

Changes to legislation: Care Act 2014, Section 101 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 21 May 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (i) the desirability of enabling health care workers to switch between different posts relating to health provision, health-related provision or care and support provision, and
- (j) such other matters as regulations may specify.

[^{F6}(2) In subsection (1)—

“health provision”, “health-related provision” and “care and support provision” each have the same meaning as in section 3;

“health services” means health services provided as part of the health service.]
