Explanatory Note

Listing of Buildings of Special Architectural or Historic Interest

It is understood that you are the owner, lessee, or occupier of the building named in the accompanying notice. This notice is to let you know that the building has been included in one of the lists of buildings of special architectural or historic interest which it is the Secretary of State's duty to compile under section 52 of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1972.

This notice does not call for any action on your part unless you propose at any time to demolish the building or to do any works (either to the exterior or to the interior) which would affect its character. In that event you will need to seek "listed building consent", that is to say, the consent of the planning authority (the Council) to the work you wish to do.

Certain buildings are exempt from this requirement, notably ecclesiastical buildings in use for the time being for ecclesiastical purposes, but it should also be noted that this exemption may be restricted or excluded by an order of the Secretary of State under section 56AA of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1972.

It is an offence if you execute or cause to be executed any works for which listed building consent is necessary without such consent, but it is a defence to prove the following matters-

- (a) that the works were urgently necessary in the interests of safety or of health, or to preserve the building;
- (b) that it was not practicable to secure safety or health or the preservation of the building by works of repair or works for affording temporary support or shelter;
- (c) that the works carried out were limited to the minimum measures immediately necessary; and
- (d) that notice in writing justifying in detail the carrying out of the works was given to the planning authority as soon as reasonably practicable.

There is no right of appeal as such against the listing of a building but, if the planning authority should refuse consent for the carrying out of any proposed works, section 54(6) of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1972 as read with paragraph 7 of Schedule 10 to that Act provides a right of appeal against the refusal to the Secretary of State. One of the statutory grounds of appeal is that the building is not of special architectural or historic interest. You are not precluded from writing at any time to the Secretary of State claiming that the building should cease to be listed on the ground that it is not in fact of special architectural or historic interest; and any such claim, with the evidence supporting it, will be carefully considered.

A fuller explanation of the consequences of the listing of a building is enclosed with this notice. If at any time you propose to take any action which may affect the character of your building, you would be well advised to refer to Part IV of, and Schedule 10 to, the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1972 and to the Town and Country Planning (Listed Buildings and Buildings in Conservation Areas) (Scotland) Regulations 1987.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations revoke and re-enact with amendments the Town and Country Planning (Listed Buildings and Buildings in Conservation Areas) (Scotland) Regulations 1975 to take account of the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1984 and the Housing and Planning Act 1986.

The changes of substance are:-

- (i) provision of a definition of "conservation area consent" which follows the precedent set in respect of Crown land applications in the Town and Country Planning Act 1984 (regulation 2(2));
- (ii) removal of the requirement that listed building consent and conservation area consent applications be made on a form prescribed by the Secretary of State (regulation 3);
- (iii) provision of procedures for applications and appeals in respect of the power to vary or discharge conditions attached to a listed building consent or conservation area consent introduced in Schedule 9, paragraph 17 of the 1986 Act (regulations 4 and 8);
- (iv) incorporation in these Regulations of provisions in respect of Crown land applications formerly contained in the Town and Country Planning (Crown Land Applications) (Scotland) Regulations 1984 (regulations 7 and 14);
- (v) amendment of the notice of listing sent to owners to take into account amendments to the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1972 made by paragraphs 15 and 18 of Schedule 9 to the 1986 Act (Schedule 3); and
- (vi) amendment of the application of section 262A(8) of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1972 to take account of amendments made in Schedule 9, paragraph 21 of the 1986 Act (Schedule 4).

The Regulations make procedural provision for applications for listed building consent, for consent to demolish certain buildings in conservation areas, for the variation or discharge of conditions attached to listed building consents, and for appeals in respect of these matters. The Regulations also prescribe the manner in which and the time within which claims are to be made for compensation arising from the application of statutory control to listed buildings and buildings in conservation areas, the serving of listed building purchase notices, the advertising of unopposed orders revoking or modifying listed building consent, or the execution of works under listed building enforcement procedure.
