EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations re-enact with amendments the provisions of the Town and Country Planning (Determination of Appeals by Appointed Persons) (Prescribed Classes) (Scotland) Regulations 1980. They prescribe the classes of appeal which are to be determined by persons appointed for the purpose by the Secretary of State instead of being determined by the Secretary of State and they also prescribe certain classes of appeal within those prescribed classes which are to continue to be determined by the Secretary of State. They provide for publication by planning authorities of any direction made by the Secretary of State specifying classes of case within the prescribed classes which are to be determined by the Secretary of State.

The change of substance is the extension of the classes of delegated appeal to cover the determination of appeals against refusal of listed building consent, consent to demolish buildings in conservation areas and enforcement notices related to such cases.
