EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order, which comes into force on 30th April 1987 (the day on which the Athens Convention relating to the Carriage of Passengers and their Luggage by Sea, as set out in Schedule 3 of the Merchant Shipping Act 1979, is given the force of law in the United Kingdom), provides for the Convention to apply to the contracts of domestic carriage mentioned in Article 2, subject to the modifications referred to in Article 3.

The Order also makes a consequential amendment to the Carriage of Passengers and their Luggage by Sea (Interim Provisions) Order 1980 (which made temporary provision for the Convention to apply to certain contracts of international and domestic carriage pending its full implementation) to secure that the Convention continues to apply in relation to contracts of domestic carriage made before 30th April 1987. Corresponding provision is made by the Merchant Shipping Act 1979 (Commencement No. 11) Order 1987 in relation to contracts for international carriage made before that date.
