(8) The Ministers shall ensure that compliance with the requirements set out in paragraphs (2) to (7) above is achieved by official or officially recognised tests and analyses carried out under agricultural, plant health and environmental conditions relevant to the use of the plant protection product and representative of those prevailing where the product is intended to be used in Great Britain.

Provisional approvals

7.—(1) The Ministers may, to enable a gradual assessment to be made of the properties of new active substances and to make it easier for new preparations to be made available for use in agriculture, approve, for a provisional period not exceeding three years, the placing on the market and use of any plant protection product containing a new active substance which is not included in Annex I, provided that the conditions specified in paragraph (2) below are satisfied.

(5) If, on expiry of the three year period mentioned in paragraph (1) above, a decision has not been taken concerning the inclusion of the active substance in Annex I, a further period may be provided for in accordance with the procedure referred to in Article 19 to enable a full examination to be made of the dossier and, where appropriate, of any additional information requested in accordance with Article 6(3) and (4) and the Ministers shall extend the period of the provisional approval accordingly.

(6) The Ministers shall ensure that compliance with the requirements set out in regulation 6(2) to (7) is achieved by official or officially recognised tests and analyses carried out under agricultural, plant health and environmental conditions relevant to the use of the plant protection product and representative of those prevailing where the product is intended to be used in Great Britain.

(7) An approval granted under this regulation shall specify the requirements and conditions relating to the placing on the market and use of the product and such requirements and conditions shall include at least all those necessary to comply with regulation 6(3)(a) to (e).

(2) Subject to paragraph (3) below, any person who wishes to obtain an approval under this regulation shall submit an application to the Ministers before the commencement of the experiment or test, together with a dossier containing all the available information, so as to permit an assessment to be made of possible effects on human or animal health or the possible impact on the environment.

(3) Paragraph (2) above shall not apply if the Ministers have granted the applicant the right to undertake certain experiments and tests and have determined the conditions under which the experiments and tests have to be undertaken.

(4) An approval granted under this regulation shall specify the requirements and conditions relating to the release into the environment of the product, which shall include a specification of the controlled conditions for carrying out the test, the quantities and area or location in respect of which the approval shall apply and any conditions imposed under paragraph (5) below.

(4) An approval granted under this regulation may specify conditions resulting from the implementation of other measures in accordance with Community law, relating to the conditions for distribution and use of plant protection products intended to protect the health of the distributors, users and workers concerned.

(5) An approval granted under this regulation may also specify conditions by way of restrictions on use which arise from differences in dietary patterns and are necessary in order to avoid exposure of consumers of treated products to the risks of dietary contamination in excess of the acceptable daily intake of the residues concerned⁽¹⁷⁾.

(6) An approval granted under this regulation may, with the agreement of the applicant, specify modifications in the requirements or conditions of use subject to which the plant protection product was authorised in order to render any non-comparable agricultural, plant health or environmental (including climatic) conditions irrelevant for the purpose of satisfying the comparability requirement.

(7) Any person who contravenes or causes or permits any person to contravene any requirement or condition of an approval granted under this regulation shall be guilty of an offence.

(8) In this regulation “the comparability requirement” means a requirement that the agricultural, plant health and environmental (including climatic) conditions relevant to the use of the plant protection product must be comparable in Great Britain.

⁽¹⁷⁾ Under Article 5(2) an acceptable daily intake can be taken into account for determining the inclusion of an active substance in Annex I.

Provisional restrictions and prohibitions

12.—(1) Where the Ministers reasonably consider that a product which they have approved, or are required to approve, under regulation 11 constitutes a risk to human or animal health or the environment, they may provisionally restrict or prohibit its sale or use in Great Britain and shall immediately notify the holder of the approval or the applicant (as the case may be), the relevant competent authorities and the Commission of such action, giving reasons for the decision.

(4) When reviewing an approval or extension of use under paragraph (3) above the Ministers may require the holder of the approval or extension of use to submit further information necessary for the review and the approval or extension of use may, where necessary, be extended for the period necessary to complete the review and provide such further information.

(5) Without prejudice to any decision already taken pursuant to regulation 11, the Ministers, in relation to any approval granted under these Regulations or extension of use granted under regulation 10—

- (a) shall revoke the approval or extension of use if it is established that—

 - (ii) false or misleading particulars were supplied concerning the facts on the basis of which the approval or extension of use was granted;
- (b) may revoke the approval or extension of use if it is established that any requirement or condition which is—
 - (i) specified in the approval or extension of use; or
 - (ii) required by the approval or extension of use to be on the labelling, is not or is no longer satisfied;
- (c) may revoke the approval or extension of use at the request of the holder of the approval or the extension of use, who shall state the reasons for such a request.

and use of plant protection products containing certain active substances⁽¹⁸⁾ as amended⁽¹⁹⁾ or to Article 6(1) or 8(1) or (2).

- (b) may modify the approval or extension of use at the request of the holder of the approval or the extension of use, who shall state the reasons for such a request.

(8) The Ministers may modify an approval or an extension of use under paragraph (7) above if it is established that the relevant requirements continue to be satisfied.

(9) In this regulation “the relevant requirements” means—

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations, which are made under section 2(2) of the European Communities Act 1972, implement in Great Britain Council Directive 91/414/EEC (OJNo. L230, 19.8.91, p.1 to be read with corrigenda published in OJ No. L170, 25.6.92, p.40) concerning the placing of plant protection products on the market (“the Directive”), Commission Directive 93/71/EEC (OJ No. L221, 31.8.93,

⁽³⁴⁾ See regulation 2(1) of the 1986 Regulations.

⁽³⁵⁾ See regulation 3 of the 1986 Regulations.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

p.27), Commission Directive 94/37/EEC (OJ No. L194, 29.7.94, p.65), and Commission Directive 94/79/EC (OJ No. L354, 31.12.94, p.16), each of which amends Annexes II and III to the Directive, and Council Directive 94/43/EEC (OJ No. L227, 1.9.94, p.31) which establishes Annex VI to the Directive.

Directives 91/414/EEC and 93/71/EEC were extended to the European Economic Area (“the EEA”) by Decision No. 7/94 of the EEA Joint Committee (OJ No. L160, 28.6.94, p.1), which amended the European Economic Area Agreement (see Decision 94/1 ECSC, EEC; OJ No. L1, 3.1.94, p.1).

The Directive (as extended to the EEA) establishes an authorisation system whereby plant protection products (defined in the Directive as active substances and preparations containing one or more active substances intended inter alia to protect plants against harmful organisms) may not be placed on the market and used in the territory of an EEA State unless they have been authorised under the Directive by that EEA State (or, subject to qualifications, by another EEA State). The Directive (as read with adaptations set out in Decision No. 7/94 of the EEA Joint Committee) establishes uniform rules on the conditions and procedures for authorisation, including rules on the mutual recognition of authorisations between EEA States. The purpose of the system is to ensure that wherever they are placed on the market and used within the EEA plant protection products are effective without causing harm to human or animal health and without adversely affecting plants and ground water or the environment in general.

Before a plant protection product can receive a standard authorisation all its active substances must be included in Annex I to the Directive although the Directive allows provisional authorisation of a product in advance of such inclusion.

The inclusion of active substances which were on the market of EEA States on or before 26th July 1993 (or, as far as Austria, Finland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden and, in so far as Liechtenstein is an EEA State, Liechtenstein are concerned, on or before 1st July 1994) are subject to a rolling review programme operated by the European Commission in conjunction with the member States of the European Community, although in transitional provisions set out in the Directive EEA States are permitted to authorise the placing on the market of products containing such substances until they have been reviewed; whereas inclusion of a new active substance in Annex I requires an application by the person intending to place it on the market.

The Directive also permits authorisations for short periods in the event of emergency and authorisations for releasing plant protection products into the environment for trial purposes. Authorisations are for fixed periods and in the case of standard authorisations they may be renewed on expiry. They may also be modified, or their range of application may be extended, in certain circumstances. Authorisations are subject to special requirements and conditions determined by the EEA State granting the authorisation, the breach of which would occasion automatic revocation. Authorisations carry a general requirement to notify the authorising EEA State of new information on the potentially dangerous effects of the authorised plant protection product or of residues of its active substances.

The Directive additionally provides certain data protection and confidentiality safeguards for holders of authorisations (whilst providing in certain circumstances for the release of information to other applicants and for the inspection of information by the public) and makes provision for the sharing of information between applicants and holders of previous authorisations of the same plant protection products with a view to limiting the duplication of tests on vertebrate animals. In addition, it prescribes requirements for labelling and packaging with which plant protection products must comply if they are to be placed on the market in the territory of an EEA State.

The Regulations incorporate the provisions of the Directive described above by providing for the establishment of the authorisation system in Great Britain, under the operation of the Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food and the Secretary of State jointly (“the Ministers”). In the Regulations authorisations are described as approvals. The Regulations impose a prohibition on the placing on the market and use of plant protection products unless they have been approved by the Ministers under the Regulations and are placed on the market and used in accordance with any conditions or requirements specified in their approval (regulation 3(1) and (2)). Persons intending to place new active substances on the market must apply to the Ministers for such substances to be included in Annex I (regulation 3(3) and 4(1)).

Applications for standard, provisional and emergency approvals of plant protection products and applications for approval of plant protection products already authorised under the Directive for use in another EEA State are made to the Ministers by the persons responsible for first placing the products on the market in Great Britain (regulations 5 to 8, 11 and 13). Similarly, applications for approvals for trial purposes are made to the Ministers (regulation 9). The provisions of the Directive concerning extensions of the range of application of approved plant protection products and the provisions requiring the notification of potentially dangerous effects of approved plant protection products are respectively incorporated in regulations 10 and 14.

The data protection, information-sharing and confidentiality provisions of the Directive are set out in regulations 15, 16 and 17 and Schedule 1 and the provisions concerning the labelling and packaging of plant protection products are set out in regulations 18 and 19 and Schedule 2.

The Regulations confer enforcement powers on officers (who for specified purposes may be officers of local authorities) authorised by either of the Ministers, including powers to seize and dispose of plant protection products in the event of a breach of a prohibition, requirement or condition imposed by or under the Regulations, to enter on land and to effect certain other controls (regulations 20 and 24). The Regulations make such breaches a criminal offence (see regulations 3, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, 16, 18 and 19), create certain other types of offence (regulation 21) and prescribe penalties and defences (regulations 22 and 23).

The transitional provisions and those specifying the extent to which the Control of Pesticides Regulations 1986 (S.I.1986/1510) will continue to apply are contained in regulations 26 and 27 and Schedule 3.

A compliance cost assessment has been prepared and a copy has been placed in the library of each House of Parliament. Copies of the compliance cost assessment and of a list of competent authorities of the member States of the European Community, to whom certain information and documents are required under the Regulations to be forwarded, can be obtained from the Pesticides Safety Directorate of the Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food, Room 308, Mallard House, Kings Pool, 3 Peasholme Green, York YO1 2PX.
