SCHEDULE 1

Article 9(1)

Explanatory material for options for County Durham

EXPLANATORY INFORMATION ABOUT THE REFERENDUM OPTIONS FOR SINGLE TIER LOCAL GOVERNMENT IN COUNTY DURHAM

You currently live in an area that has both a county council and a district council. This is known as two tier local government. However there are already many areas in England, especially the larger towns and cities, where single tier local government exists, with all local government services being provided by the one authority.

Your county council provides large scale services across the whole of the county and is responsible for transport, minerals and waste planning, highways, education, consumer protection, refuse disposal, libraries and personal social services. Your district council has a more local focus, providing services in its own area and is responsible for environmental health, housing, most planning decisions and refuse collection. Both county and district councils can provide facilities such as museums, art galleries and parks.

If an elected Regional Assembly is established for the North East region, local authorities in your area will be reorganised. This means that your county and district council will be replaced by a single tier local authority, which will deliver all local government services.

You are asked to help decide how the current pattern of two tier local authorities in County Durham would be reorganised into a single tier.

You have two options to choose from. Please express a preference for either Option A or Option B on the ballot paper titled, “Referendum on Options for Single Tier Local Government”.

The options

Option A: this option proposes the creation of one single tier local authority–County Durham; covering the whole of the existing county council area.

The existing district councils of Chester-le-Street, Derwentside, Durham (city), Easington, Sedgefield, Teesdale and Wear Valley would be abolished.

This single tier local authority would exercise the functions of the existing county council and those of the former district councils.

Option B: this option proposes the creation of three single tier local authorities. The areas of these single tier authorities would be formed from combinations of existing district council areas.

Durham county council and the district councils of Chester-le-Street, Derwentside, Durham (city), Easington, Sedgefield, Teesdale and Wear Valley would be abolished.

In its area, each single tier local authority would exercise the functions of the former district councils and those of the former Durham county council.

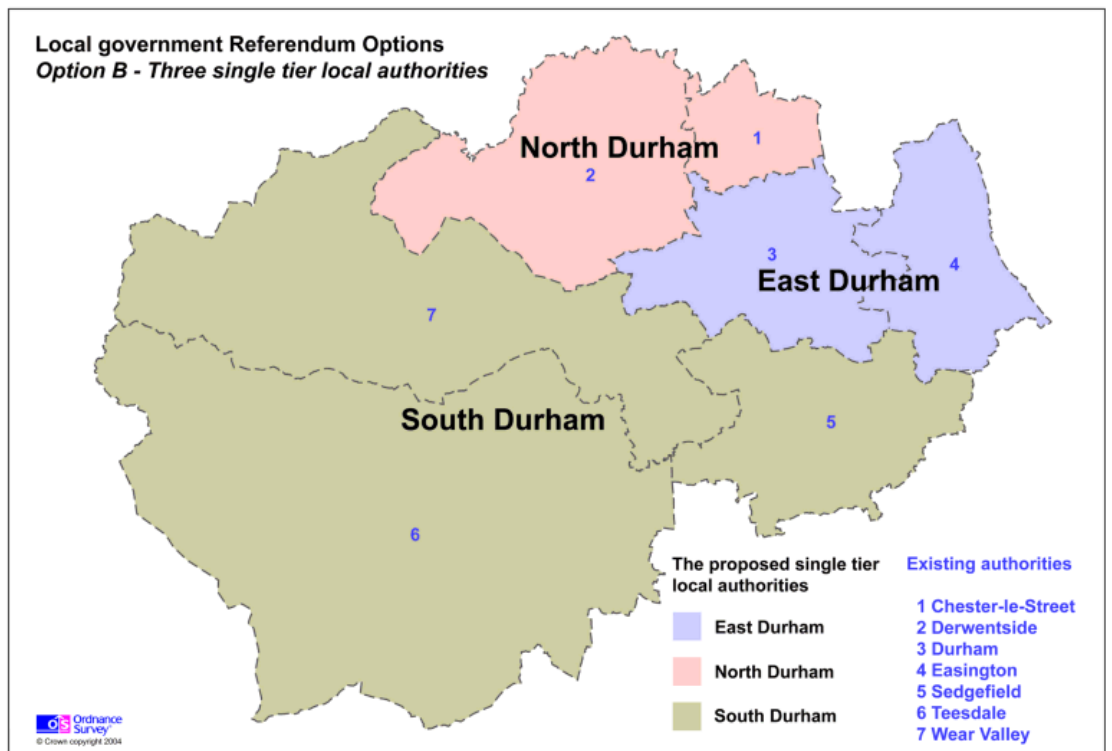

The proposed single tier local authorities are:

1. East Durham: this authority would cover the former districts of Durham (city) and Easington.
2. North Durham: this authority would cover the former districts of Chester-le-Street and Derwentside.
3. South Durham: this authority would cover the former districts of Sedgefield, Teesdale and Wear Valley.

Option A and Option B are illustrated on the maps in this explanatory information.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

Part 1 of the Regional Assemblies (Preparations) Act 2003 provides for the holding of a referendum in a region about the establishment of an elected assembly for that region (“a Regional Assembly referendum”) and on the same date holding referendums in the parts of the region that have both county and district councils, about the reorganisation of those local authorities into a single tier of local government (“a local government referendum”).

Article 3 of this Order provides for the holding of a Regional Assembly referendum in the North East.

Article 4 provides for the holding of local government referendums in the county areas of County Durham and Northumberland (both in the North East region).

Article 5 specifies the referendum period for each of the referendums.

Article 6 changes the period for applications to be made by a permitted participant at a Regional Assembly referendum held under this Order for appointment by the Electoral Commission as a designated organisation entitled to assistance with their campaigning. The period for application under section 109 of the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000 becomes 42 days from the beginning of the referendum period, instead of 28 days. The date from which, in default of appointing a designated organisation, the Electoral Commission may provide information to voters about the Regional Assembly referendum issues, is 14 days later than provided in the Regional Assemblies (Preparations) Act 2003. It becomes the 57th day of the referendum period if applications for designation are made, or the 43rd day if applications for designation are not made.

The local government referendum question asks voters to express a preference on the options presented for single tier local government. Articles 7 and 8 set out the text of the options for County Durham and Northumberland respectively, that will be put in the question to voters.

Article 9 gives effect to the Schedules which set out the explanatory material that will be made available for voters about the options for single tier local government in County Durham and Northumberland.
