EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order makes consequential adjustments to the Corporation Tax Acts required by the amendments to sections 75 and 76 of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 (c. 1) which are made by section 38 to 40 and 45 of, and Schedule 6 to, the Finance Act 2004 (c. 12). In what follows “ICTA” means the 1988 Act and the former sections 75 and 76 are referred to below as “old sections 75 and 76” while their successors are referred to as “new sections 75 and 76”.

Article 1 provides for the citation, commencement and effect of the Order and the interpretation of some terms used in it.

Article 2 provides that the Schedule to the Order shall have effect.

The Schedule to the Order contains the amendments. These have been grouped in this note by theme rather than statutory order.

The amendments fall into a series of discrete groups:

The first group of amendments reflects the fact that relief for management expenses is now available to a company with investment business, not just an investment company. The amendments to which this relates are those to—

- (b) section 93 of ICTA (other grants under Industrial Development Act 1982 etc)

- (n) paragraph 16 of Schedule 23 to that Act (corporation tax relief for employee share acquisition: options: method of giving relief).

The second group of amendments reflect the fact that section 76 has been decoupled from section 75 and uses a different phraseology (“expenses payable brought into account in Step 1 of section 76(7)”). The amendments in this group are to—

- (a) sections 79, 79A and 79B of ICTA (relief for contributions to certain bodies);
- (b) section 84A of ICTA (costs of establishing share option or profit sharing schemes: relief);
- (c) section 85 of ICTA (payments to trustees of approved profit sharing schemes);
