EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order, made under section 1 of the United Nations Act 1946, gives effect in the United Kingdom to Resolution 1373(2001) adopted by the Security Council of the United Nations on 28th September 2001 relating to terrorism and resolution 1453(2002) adopted on 20th December 2002 relating to humanitarian exemptions. It also provides for enforcement of Regulation (EC) 2580/2001 on specific measures directed at certain persons and entities with a view to combating terrorism (“the EC Regulation”).

The EC Regulation provides a mechanism for designating within the Community persons in respect of whom measures contained in the EC Regulation are to apply. The measures include the freezing of funds, financial assets and economic resources of such persons and ensuring that any funds, financial assets, economic resources and financial services are not made available to them.

Article 3 of this Order provides that “designated persons” are persons named in Council Decision 2006/379/EC (which provides the designations for the purposes of the EC Regulation) and those identified in a direction given by the Treasury under article 4.

Article 4 gives the Treasury power to give a direction to designate a person for the purposes of the Order if one of a number of specified conditions is fulfilled in respect of the person. The conditions are that the Treasury have reasonable grounds to suspect that the person is or may be (a) a person who commits, attempts to commit, participates in or facilitates the commission of acts of terrorism; (b) a person named in the Council Decision; (c) a person owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by a designated person; or (d) a person acting on behalf of or at the direction of a designated person. This article also gives power for the Treasury to specify in the direction that the prohibition in article 8(1) does not apply in respect of the person identified in the direction.

Article 5 makes further provision about the Treasury’s directions, including a requirement for the Treasury to take the steps that they consider appropriate, to publicise the direction or to inform only certain persons and to notify the person identified in the direction. This article also includes provision about the manner in which a direction has effect and appeals.

Article 6 gives the Treasury power to specify that information contained in the direction is to be treated as confidential. The article imposes a prohibition on disclosing such information except with lawful authority. The article makes it a criminal offence to contravene this prohibition and provides that the Court may grant an injunction to prevent a breach.

Article 7 prohibits any dealing with funds, financial assets and economic resources of anyone who commits, attempts to commit, participates in or facilitates the commission of acts of terrorism; designated persons; anyone owned or controlled by them or anyone acting on their behalf of or at their direction. The article makes it a criminal offence to contravene this prohibition.

Article 8 prohibits making funds, financial assets, economic resources or financial services available to anyone in respect of whom article 7 applies. The article makes it a criminal offence to contravene this prohibition.

Article 10 makes it a criminal offence to circumvent the prohibitions or to facilitate the commission of an offence relating to a prohibition.

Article 11 provides a licensing procedure to enable, for humanitarian and other purposes, certain acts to be exempted from the prohibitions.

Article 16 gives the Treasury power to delegate its functions under the Order.

Article 18 confirms that the provisions of this Order apply to the Crown but, in the event of a contravention, the Crown is not criminally liable.

Article 20 revokes the Terrorism (United Nations Measures) Order 2001, save that in any case where a direction has been made under article 4 of that Order, the provisions of that Order continue to apply. Other instruments and provisions amending the 2001 Order are also revoked. The 2001 Order provided for enforcement of the EC Regulation and gave a power for a domestic asset freeze.

Schedule 1 makes provisions about information and evidence.

Schedule 2 lists the provisions revoked by virtue of article 20.
