(Transitional Provisions) Order 2012

Transitional provision relating to dredging operations

2. Paragraph 9 of Schedule 9 (licensing: transitional provision relating to Part 4) to the 2009 Act⁽¹⁾ has effect, other than in relation to an excepted dredging operation, as if for sub-paragraph (4) there were substituted—

- “(4) The “relevant transitional period”—
- (a) is, in the case of any person—
 - (i) in the case of any dredging operation falling within sub-paragraph (5), (6) or (8), one year beginning with the commencement date, and
 - (ii) in the case of any other dredging operation, three years beginning with that date, but
 - (b) if a marine licence which authorises the carrying on of the dredging operation by the person comes into force (or has come into force) at any time before the end of the period in question, the transitional period ends with the coming into force of that licence.
- (5) A dredging operation falls within this sub-paragraph if it is a project—
- (a) which—
 - (i) is not directly connected with or necessary to the management of a European site, and
 - (ii) is likely (either alone or in combination with other plans or projects) to have a significant effect on a European site, and
 - (b) in respect of which no relevant assessment has been, is being, or is to be undertaken by the appropriate licensing authority or any other authority under any enactment for the purposes of the consideration by that authority of any application for its consent.
- (6) A dredging operation falls within this sub-paragraph if—
- (a) it is to be carried out—
 - (i) in the course of an Annex I project, or

(1) Paragraph 9 of Schedule 9 to the 2009 Act makes provision for certain dredging operations. Paragraph 9(1) provides that during the relevant transitional period, section 65 (requirement for licence) does not apply in respect of the carrying on by a person of a dredging operation falling within item 9 of section 66(1) of the Act and which meets certain conditions. Paragraph 9(4) defines the “relevant transitional period” as the period of one year beginning with the commencement date, save where a licence comes into force (or has come into force) before the end of that period. By virtue of paragraph 1 of Schedule 9 to the 2009 Act, “the commencement date” means the date on which section 65 of that Act comes into force. By virtue of article 3(1) and (2)(a) of the Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 (Commencement No. 5, Consequential and Transitional Provisions) Order 2011 (S.I. 2011/556 (C. 19)), section 65 of the 2009 Act came into force on 6th April 2011. So the period referred to in paragraph 9(4)(a) of Schedule 9 to the 2009 Act is the period from 6th April 2011 to 5th April 2012.

- (ii) in the course of an Annex II project which is likely, because of its size, nature or location, to have significant effects on the environment, and
- (b) the project in question is one in respect of which no relevant assessment has been, is being, or is to be undertaken by—
- (i) the appropriate licensing authority⁽²⁾;
 - (ii) an authority to whom the functions of the appropriate licensing authority have been delegated⁽³⁾; or
 - (iii) any other authority under any enactment for the purposes of the consideration by such authority of any application for its consent.
- (7) A dredging operation is not to be taken to be an operation of a kind falling within sub-paragraph (6) if a person carrying on that operation has obtained a screening opinion from the appropriate authority under regulation 11 of the Marine Works Regulations and paragraph (5) of that regulation (screening opinion that an environmental impact assessment is not required in relation to the activity) applies.
- (8) A dredging operation falls within this sub-paragraph if it is an operation which has or is likely to have the effect, in relation to any body of water, of—
- (a) preventing the achievement of any of the environmental objectives listed in the relevant river basin management plan as applicable in relation to that body of water; or
 - (b) causing environmental damage.
- (9) A person who proposes to carry out a dredging operation may request an opinion from the appropriate licensing authority, or (as the case may be) the authority to whom the functions of the appropriate licensing authority have been delegated, as to whether any dredging operation falls within sub-paragraph (5), (6) or (8), and that authority must provide such an opinion as soon as practicable.
